

New private clinic revels in its first babies

JAMEY GORDON

Fawaaz Rhoda and Tristan Charles Cox.

These are the names of the bouncing baby boys who were welcomed into the world at Busamed Paardevlei Hospital last Friday (30 October).

Their birth was not only the first two deliveries for the hospital, but also for the Busamed Group.

Little Fawaaz was the first born of the two little bundles of joy via Caesarean section at 08:31 on Friday morning. Doting mom Washiela Arnold-Rhoda says the latest little addition to her family weighed in at 3,3 kg.

"It's unknown territory," smiled Washiela, who further explained that she is also mom to seven-year-old Salma and five-year-old Sirraaj.

Born a few hours after Fawaaz, just after 11:00, baby Tristan also arrived via Caesarean section, and immediately stole his deliriously happy mom's heart.

"I'm in love," says Chantel, who believes there's no other way to describe how she feels.

Also mom to three-year-old Kaylin, Chantel reckons the birth of her little boy "is different and buying clothes is definately going to be a challenge, but I'm excited about the new chapter in our lives.

Tyron and Chantel Cox with their pride and joy, Kaylin (3) and little Tristan Charles.

PHOTOS: JAMEY GORDON

"We now have our daddy's girl and mommy's boy," she laughed.

Hospital manager Yaseen Harneker says the deliveries have been met with great excitement by all who work and practise at the hospital.

"We are overjoyed for both families and wish to congratulate them," he said.

Proud parents Shuaib Rhoda and Washiela Arnold-Rhoda with their latest addition to the family, Fawaaz.